COMMISSIONER'S CORNER

Fall officially began on Saturday, September 23. After the run of triple digits, we are all glad for the cooler weather! Be sure to get outside and enjoy these fall days, and remember that Daylight Savings Time ends on Sunday, November 5, at 2:00 a.m., when you'll set your clocks back one hour.

Are you registered to vote? The last day to register in Texas is Tuesday, October 10. Early voting will be from October 23 – November 3, with the general election on Tuesday, November 7. For Tarrant County elections information and any questions relating to voting, you may contact the Election Administration office directly at 817-831-8683 or click here to visit their website. Read more on page 2.

Everyone had a great time at the 13th Annual Empowering Seniors Health & Wellness EXPO on Thursday, September 28! The Hurst Conference Center was a great venue that offered easy access for all in attendance. Thank you to our Presenting Sponsor, Care N' Care Insurance Co., and our area hospitals and other sponsors who make this event possible. We also want to thank our exhibitors, volunteers, attendees, and many others. It was good to see our area seniors, boomers, and caregivers in person and to offer them the opportunity to visit vendors, gather vital resources and information, and receive screenings to help improve their quality of life in Northeast Tarrant County. Please read more on page 3.

In this edition of the Northeast Newsletter, we want to send well wishes to a great community leader, G.K. Maenius, for his retirement after serving as Tarrant County's Administrator for the past 35 years. We also welcome Chandler Merritt as the new Tarrant County Administrator. With the upcoming holiday season, we have included a page on area assistance programs that may offer support for those in need. Senior News provides information about Medicare Open Enrollment, and the Historical Moment in Time article goes through the History of the City of Hurst. We also celebrate the opening of the newly named and expanded "Glen Whitley Building," which is home to Alliance for Children.

Please join me this Friday, October 13, for Coffee with the Commissioner in our Community Room at the Northeast Courthouse, 645 Grapevine Highway, Hurst. My team and I will have coffee, donuts, and good conversation while visiting with others in our community; everyone is welcome to attend. I look forward to seeing you there!

The Quote of the Month - "Texans are always excited to see other people. Even if the IRS agent arrives on your doorstep to inform you that your last five returns will be audited, you invite him in for a glass of iced tea."

FAREWELL “GOOD KID”

G.K. Maenius

Retired Tarrant County Administrator

G.K. Maenius, the longest-serving County Administrator in Texas, has held the position since 1988 and is the only County Administrator in Tarrant County history.

Before becoming the County Administrator, Maenius was a former police officer who chaired a group as vice president of Governmental Affairs for the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. He was also the Fort Worth Crime Commission's executive director; before that, he served in the governor's office as the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council's program director.

As the County Administrator, he has worked closely with four county judges and has overseen a county government with over 5,000 employees and an operating budget of approximately $900 million. Maenius has been a driving force for collaboration with Tarrant County cities and businesses, helping pave the way for Panther Island and playing a vital role in the partnership with the City of Fort Worth and Texas A&M in developing the new downtown Fort Worth campus. He has played a significant role in some of the biggest projects in Tarrant County, including AT&T Stadium, the Alliance corridor, and the expansion of the American Airlines headquarters. Other construction projects include the Family Law Center, the Tom Vandergriff Civil Courts Building, several County facility buildings, and numerous transportation infrastructures.

Maenius has also been instrumental in modernizing the County's technology and spearheading successful bond programs, which voters overwhelmingly approved. His efforts have helped keep Tarrant County's property tax rates consistently low and its number of employees per capita among the lowest in the state.

His favorite memories from his time in Tarrant County come back to the people he worked with, from the employees to the elected officials on the Commissioners Court. When asked what G.K. stood for, he responded with, "Good Kid".

Despite retiring from the County, Maenius plans to remain active in the community, spend time with his family while residing in Tarrant County, and work on his ranch near Fredericksburg.

A Historical Moment in Time "City of Hurst History"

The City of Hurst is located just north of Fort Worth and on State Highways 121 and 10, north of the West Fork of the Trinity River in the northeastern quadrant of Tarrant County. By the late 1840s, farmers began to settle within Hurst's confines. The area was home to several families, including the Tennessee families of William L. Hurst and the Indiana families of Daniel Arwine and Jeff Souder. Notably, the Indiana clans established a church and school in the area during the late 1870s. The community supported at least one church and one school.

State Highway 10 (1950's)

Hurst Train Depot

The area began to grow slowly after the Civil War, but it was when the Rock Island line was built in 1903 that things started to pick up. William Hurst donated land in exchange for establishing a depot named for him, and the community was later renamed Hurst in 1909. The depot operated for some thirty years, but there were only twenty people in downtown Hurst between 1910 and 1920, and the area's agricultural products, grain, and cattle needed to be more to make the train stop regularly. Sand and gravel excavations began south of Hurst in the Trinity River bottoms early in the 1900s, and more extensive operations started in the 1920s. During prohibition, 1919–1933, illegal whiskey was also brewed along the wooded river and sold for about $10 a gallon.

Throughout the 1930s and 1940s, a handful of grocery stores, filling stations, and cafes opened, and the Work Projects Administration erected a brick school in 1940. However, it wasn't until 1951, when Bell Helicopter opened a $3 million plant in Hurst, that the area experienced a significant boom in growth. Hurst was incorporated as a general law city on September 25, 1952, with a total population of 2,700. During the next five years, the population increased to 5,700. By the mid-60s, it had climbed to more than 20,000.

Other significant developments followed, including the opening of Tarrant County Junior College in 1968, the Northeast Mall in 1972, and Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport in 1974. When the 1980 Census was taken, the number of residents with addresses in Hurst had climbed to more than 30,000. Since then, the population growth slowed to 40,413, as recorded by the 2020 census. However, during this time, the city kept developing to include a great mix of neighborhoods, businesses, shopping, restaurants, and entertainment for the Hurst community to live, work, and play in their own backyard.

New Tarrant County Administrator

Chandler Merritt was named County Administrator by the Tarrant County Commissioners Court on September 19, 2023. As the County Administrator, he will work closely with all elected officials and provide staff support to the Commissioners Court.

Merritt served as an Assistant County Administrator for two and a half years and a Chief of Staff to the Tarrant County Judge for four years. He also worked for the City of McKinney as Director of Strategic Services and the City of Irving as a Business Operations Manager. Before his public service career, Merritt held various roles with Hicks Sports Group, including Assistant Vice President of Business Operations for the Cedar Park Center and within the Dallas Stars and Texas Rangers organizations.

Merritt is a graduate of The University of Texas at Austin and holds a Master of Public Administration from The University of Texas at Arlington. He is also a Credentialed Manager through the International City/County Management Association Executive Board. Merritt is a native of Tarrant County and is happily married to his wife, Nikki, with whom he shares three children.

Promotion

John Stubblefield with Tarrant County Precinct 3 Maintenance Facility was promoted from Operations Supervisor to Assistant Director of Field Operations on October 1, 2023. He welcomes the responsibilities of the new position.

John has been employed with Precinct 3 for 19 years.

Maintenance Center News
October 2023

We have 33 Interlocal Agreements (ILA) for projects in Precinct 3 that are estimated and scheduled throughout 12 of our cities. Our construction schedule has fewer but larger projects this year, which has our construction schedule filled into next year. Currently, most project requests are in the process of contract approval through City Councils and Commissioner Court. Still, we have already made a strong start and have completed several projects.

INTERLOCAL PROJECTS

These projects are a cooperative effort between the county and cities to complete needed resurfacing, rehabilitation and reconstruction projects on city streets. The city provides the material funding, and the county provides the labor and equipment to perform the work.

Below is a list of proposed projects this fiscal year and a little beyond (Oct 1, 2023, through November 2024). These 33 projects should yield an estimated $5 million in savings to the Cities by using County equipment and personnel for construction. Projects and schedules may be subject to change.

Question of the Month

Question: When was the first corny dog invented?

Answer: Ah, the corny dog. That delectable and neat way to eat a hot dog while you wander the midway at the State Fair of Texas. Dallas actor and announcer Neil Fletcher invented the corny dog in his kitchen in the 1940's when he simply rolled his dawg in cornmeal and fried it. It was soon introduced on the midway, and millions of Fair-goers since have yet to consider their annual visit complete without at least one original Fletcher!

MEDICARE

Medicare is the federal health insurance program for people in the U.S. who are 65 and older. Medicare has also been extended to persons under age 65 who receive disability benefits from Social Security or those with End-Stage Renal Disease.

Part A (Hospital Insurance) Covers

- Inpatient hospital stays
- Care in a skilled nursing facility
- Hospice care
- Some home health care

Part B (Medical Insurance) Covers

- Certain doctors' services
- Outpatient care
- Home health care
- Medical supplies
- Preventive services

Part C (Medicare Advantage Plan)

- Medicare Advantage is a Medicare-approved plan from a private company that offers an alternative to Original Medicare for your health and drug coverage. These “bundled” plans include Part A, Part B, and usually Part D
- In most cases, you’ll need to use doctors in the plan’s network.
- Plans may have lower out-of-pocket costs than Original Medicare and may offer some extra benefits that Original Medicare doesn’t cover — like vision, hearing, and dental services.

Part D (Prescription Drug Coverage)

Medicare drug coverage helps pay for prescription drugs you need. To get Medicare drug coverage, you must join a Medicare-approved plan that offers drug coverage (this includes Medicare drug plans and Medicare Advantage Plans with drug coverage).

Medicare Supplemental Insurance (Medigap)

Extra insurance you can buy from a private company that helps pay your share of costs in Original Medicare. Policies are standardized and, in most states, named by letters, like Plan G or Plan K. The benefits in each lettered plan are the same, no matter which insurance company sells it.
