- Any party may file a written demand for a trial by jury which must be filed no later than 14 days before the date a case is set for trial.
- If the demand is not timely, the right to a jury is waived unless the late filing is excused by the judge for good cause.
- Unless otherwise provided by law, a party demanding a jury must pay a fee of ($22.00) or must file a sworn statement of inability to afford payment of court cost for jury fee.
- If a party who demands a jury and pays the fee withdraws the demand, the case will remain on the jury docket unless all other parties present agree to try the case without a jury. A party that withdraws its jury demand is not entitled to a refund of the jury fee.
- If no jury is timely demanded by either party, the judge will try the case.
